

Programme Accreditation

You will be aware that in May 2016 we were delighted to announce that the Meyler Campbell 'Mastered' programme was accredited by the Association for Coaching (AC) for the first time. We now wish to let you know that following a review of all our programme accreditation arrangements we have made the decision not to apply for reaccreditation with the Worldwide Association of Business Coaches (WABC) when this period of accreditation expires on September 29th 2016. Our decision represents a voluntary and amicable withdrawal as we consider our new strategic and business objectives moving forward. We are grateful for the support and help that WABC has given us through the years of our partnership and remain open to exploring further opportunities in the future as our organisations continue to evolve.

What this means for you

If you are a graduate of the Mastered (formerly known as the Business Coach) Programme and are a current WABC member and hold the WABC Certified Business Coach™ (CBC™) designation, your WABC membership and CBC™ remain in good standing as long as you continue to meet WABC's requirements (e.g., annual membership renewal, professional development record every five years). Please visit their website for full details (INSERT LINK). This represents no change from the current situation.

All students who are currently registered on the Mastered programme or who have commenced the programme before September 29th 2016 are still eligible to apply to WABC for membership and the CBC™ on graduation from the programme. All graduates then have one-year from the date of graduation to join WABC to earn CBC™. Again this represents no change from the current arrangement.

All students who register in the Mastered programme after September 29th 2016 will no longer be eligible to apply for CBC™ by virtue of completing this Meyler Campbell programme, (WABC does offer other options for achieving CBC™, so if interested, please contact them directly). Instead they will be able to state that they are graduates of the Meyler Campbell Mastered programme accredited by the Association for Coaching.
